Women's Fall Hats.

[New York Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

Every year we are prone to declare the new hats more unbecoming and ungainly than ever before. But hitherto we have misused our mother-tongue. Though we know it not, superlatives, ere this, have been wretchedly out of place. Privately, I am inclined to think that some of the masculine hat houses, having had large stocks of felts left over for a season or two past, must have disposed of themselvely to milliners, who agreed to bring them out as something novel for women, certain it is, that no shade of difference can be detected between a majority of the new feminine head-coverings and the soft summer felts worn by men. They are identical even to the narrow repped ribon binding, and the band around the crown. There are, of course, variations of the high-crowned mannish style: but that prevails, and may well be considered the style of the season. Indeed, certain is not only a proposal and the sum or proper the sidentical even to the narrow repet with the provails, and may well be considered the style of the season. Indeed, certain a prosons are trimming and freshening their husband's last summer thats. thereby rendering themselves.

after the restoration of Travis to the good will of his people, and it may be well imagined that Stanton lost no time in claiming the fulfillment of her promise.

Again they were together, Minnie Moreland and Frank Stanton. Both were agitated. It was natural that Stanton should be so, for he was altogether uncertain as to what the result would be In truth, he had little ground upon which to base much hope. white league terrorism that prevailed in Georgia at the recent election:

dence of which we invite special attention to the advertising columns of the Cltizen.

The city boasts of three daily papers, among them The Constitution—the old reliable Constitution—which is read almost everywhere. It is now a large four-page forty column paper, and is bound to live and flourish for many years to come.—Cer. Dulton Citizen.

The resolution of Alderman W. D. Ellis, unanimously passed by the council, for the immediate payment of the Georgia press for advertising the fair, and complimenting them upon the liberal and splendid manner in which they had contributed to its success, was eminently the right thing. They have done nobly and Atlanta warmly appreciates their conduct. The bill will be paid immediately on presentation.

The city boasts of three daily papers, and as made to the democratic candidates. There will not be exceeding fourteen republicans in both houses at the next general assembly, thus giving a democratic majority on joint ballot of 205. In this county of Richmond—about 1,700 cotes were polled, giving a democratic majority on joint ballot of 205. In this county of 1,500. "That is, there were along two the vote of the same county in the presidential contest of 1872. We find that it gave Greeley, 2,763 votes, and Grant 2,327. We find that it gave the democratic candidate for governor 2,823 and the republican candidate 2,078. A Going back to 1888, we find that it gave the democratic candidate for governor 2,823 and the republican candidate 2,078. A Going back to 1888, we find that it gave the democratic candidate for governor 2,823 and the republican vote never less than 2,000. Last year there was no general election whatever, so that our latest comparison its county of Richmond in these three clections of 1868, 1872 and 1874, side by side where their full force can be seen:

Democratic vote. 3,128 2, 763 1,600

Nor is this all of it. The same general result is seen in most of the localities. A state in which two years ago the republican vote was nearly 50,000, is now reported as electing only 14 republican members of the legislature all told, against 219 democrats! What is the explanation of this extraordinary fact?

act?
There can be but one possible explana There can be but one possible explana-tion—an explanation consistent with what we know to be the deliberate pur-pose of the rebel element in Georgia and other southern states—and that is that the kuklux and white league terrorism has driven the republicans from the polls. If this is not the true way of accounting for it, what other can be named? We appeal to the indepent and candor of for it, what other can be named? We appeal to the judgment and candor of every intelligent man—we care not what his politics—whether any other hypothesis is reasonable or probable? This har monizes with the avowed design of the kuklux klans and the white leagues. It is what is known to be going on in other localities. It is the same spirit which impelled the white leagues of Louisiana to to drive republican officers from their parish and murder them. Just as plainly as if it were written in letters of light these simple figures from Augusta are a story of threats and terrorism which is in vain to deny.

Many persons are buying spots and contracts now, believing that the price will soon advance. In a large number of the towns which are tributary to this city, the prices for cotton is kept up to within ½ of a cent of our prices when

At the state fair held here during the las week, there was on exhibition is mechanics hall a machine for cleaning, feeding and ginning cotton, invented by Thos. C. Craven, of Hudson, N. Y.

This machine, which attracted general attention and was examined by all cotton planters, and cotton mill and machinery inch, we look upon as being the greatest invention of the age, and not second to the invention of the Withrey gin; an invention which when once introduced in the south makes every planter his own factor and saves all the commissions and brokerages now so merous to every raiser of cotton. By this invention the planter is enabled to sell his cotton, in the seed, saving all ginning and calling, and drawing of shipping it to the learest mill; the same as the western farmer

FAIRMANKS.—The Fairbanks scales company during the fair sold a pair of plantation scales to A. Howell, Esq., of Marietta. The popularity of the Fairbanks scales is unbounded.

Mr. J. D. Turner, warehouseman, purchased the beautiful Fairbanks cotton scales that have been on exhibition at the fair grounds for the last week.

Messrs. C. H. Strong & Co. received the baies of cotton that obtained the premium. Our business manager had the pleasure of weighing the first bale upon the premium scales. Dr. Turner can weigh your cotton to the slightast fraction, and C. H. Strong & Co. will pay you the top prices for it.

Housemeepens, Lookout.—The residence of Mr. Mise was entered lastnight, about ten o'clock, and considerable property stolen. The family were at the store, a short distance from the residence, and no body but children were in the house. The thieves entered the back door, and carried off bed clothing, wearing apparel, and a trunk containing dresses and some silver. The trunk was found empty in the garden. The police made a diligent search last night, but as yet have found nothing. The fall stealing has set in, and our readers will do well to look after doors and windows.

Thy Simms Case.—The United States Circuit Court has been engaged for two days in trying the case of the United States va. Thomas G. Simms, principal, and W. B. Lowe and G. J. any that took place during the week. The spectators certainly exhibited more enthusiasm, and the betting was more lively. The first contest was a half mile dash, open to the world, for a purse of fifty dollard, offered by the city. First horse to get $85, and the second $15. Mr. John Rutledge entered Charlie. Soch Pruit, Mystery. Clint Taylor, Sorrel Mare. Messrs 3. 8. A. Crawford, H. S. Kline, Otis Jones and W. J. Wood acted spludges.

Charlie is a new comer. He had never been put on the track before, and disappointed the expectations of a good many who bet against the race.

The sorrel mare launched to the front as the horses started off, and made the ground dy, with Mystery closely at her heels, and Charlie behind all. The horser and beautifully, and it seemed as if fortune was about favor the sorrel mare, when, on the home stretch Charlie's rider put the whip to him and he passed all, winning the race by a couple of lengths. As the horses came in the crowd cheered themselves nearly hoarse. Charlie won the heat in 57 seconds; sorrel horse, 2nd, Mystery, 3d.

THE RUNNING RACE,

the crowd cheered themselves nearly hoarse. Charlie won the heat in 57 seconds; sorrel horse, 2nd; Mystery, 3d.

The most exciting race of the day took place at three o'clock in the afternoon. This was a running race, mile heats, best three in five, open to the world. First horse to get $250, second $100. Messrs. B. J. Godfrey, P. M. B. Young and H. H. Hicks were the judges.

The following horses were entered: Journal of the Judges and John the well known race granger; J. W. Crawford entered Yandal colt; D. H. Smith and J. N. Williams entered Jennie Brown.

Pinst Heat.—Owing to a mistake of the judges the time on the first heat was not taken. Before the first half mile had been passed over it was apparent that Jennie Brown was entirely out of the race. The colt put his best leg foremost and gave Granger won the heat by a few yards, the Colt second, and Jennie Brown. Was entirely out of the race. The colt put has best leg foremost and gave Granger won the heat in one minute fifty and after a most exciting dash, Granger won the heat in one minute fifty and three-fourths second.

THERD HEAT.—This heat was but a repetition of the second. Granger allowed the Colt to take the lead, but passed him on he home run. Time—one minute fifty three and a-half seconds. This gave Granger first per construction of the second. Granger sllowed the Colt to take the lead, but passed him on he home run. Time—one minute fifty three and a-half seconds. This gave Granger the race.

The PACING RACE.—A very exciting paring context also took place during the attention. T. J. Aldrich entered bay mare.
